How to make the world a smaller place: using web conferencing for effective Communication & Dissemination

With the advent of new technologies, the social framework of today's world is in a constant state of flux. The possibilities for collaboration have never been greater, as geographical distance is no longer a barrier for effective Communication & Dissemination. To answer these needs, UNM provides the Meeting.UNM system, a video conferencing and collaborative meeting-space environment powered by Adobe Connect 8. Adobe Connect 8 is an enterprise web conferencing solution used by leading corporations and government agencies to improve collaboration, and get work done faster. This workshop will provide an overview of the system and its resources and discuss how you can use this powerful tool as part of your work.
